

CONFRONTATION AT THE BRIDGE, BY JACOB LAWRENCE

Rethinking Migration

Migration has long been problematized as a key challenge facing modern societies. From emigrant hemorrhages to fears over immigrant numbers, and from border control to the cultural 'values' held at the hearts of nation-states, migration will remain a key issue in the years to come.

From 3pm to 5:30pm on Friday, 9 November, scholars from Dublin City University and NUI Maynooth together with activists and community leaders will discuss migration research in the Royal Irish Academy, 19 Dawson Street, Dublin.

Roundtable 1: What's the matter with Migration Studies?

Participants: Gavan Titley (NUIM), Issah Huseini (New Communities Partnership), Luke Kasuwanga (Anti-Racism Network), Fiona Murphy (DCU)

Roundtable 2: Migrations: New Research Agendas

Participants: Mark Maguire (NUIM), Mary Hyland (DCU [TBC]), Mary Gilmartin (NUIM), Sabina Stan (DCU), Neil O'Boyle (DCU)

The discussion panels will be followed by the launch of

Integration in Ireland: The Everyday Lives of African Migrants
by Fiona Murphy and Mark Maguire

Seminar is free to all; book launch RSVP to: Fiona.E.Murphy@dcu.ie by 01 November
